THE TERRIBLE STORM.

Immense Damage Done to Shipping and Loss of Life.

STEAMER FROZEN IN THE ICE.

Cold Weather in Montreal—A Four-masted Collier Vessel—Along the New Jersey Coast—Etc.

MONTREAL, November 27.—One of the most severe storms of snow and wind known here for years began over the province and Ontario Sunday evening, and still continues. The wind at times blew as hard as seventy miles per hour. The streets and surrounding country are covered with snow drifts ten feet deep in places and the most severe cold prevails. Horse-car lines here have stopped running. Forty-four people were picked up in the streets by the police Sunday night unable to make their way through alive, being either benumbed by cold or bewildered by the winds. The storm was felt more severely on the lower St. Lawrence than anywhere else.

FROZEN IN THE ICE.
The steamer Pomeroy, bound for Liverpool, which was grounded at Sorel, made an attempt to reach Quebec Sunday with the aid of four tugs. She got as far as Batiscan and anchored for the night. Yesterday not only the steamer, but two tugs were frozen in solidly. The Pomeroy will not get through this season. She will probably be forced ashore on the rocks and become a total loss. The Allen Steamship Company, which owns her, will lose over $300,000. At Quebec a gale is raging furiously, and the iron ferry boats that ply between that point and Pointe Léves are caught in the ice, which threatens to crush them.

A STEAMER DISAPPEARS.
The steamship Polina, bound from Cape Breton to Quebec, was seen struggling against the gale and ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, 320 miles below Quebec, at daylight. She suddenly disappeared, and has not been seen or reported since. There are fears that she has been lost. She had forty passengers, a crew of thirty and a general cargo.

ABATING IN NEW JERSEY.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., November 27.—The storm has abated and the sun is shining brightly. A survey of the situation shows no such destruction to property on this coast has been known since the incorporation of the city. Hundreds of property-owners from Philadelphia and other localities have come down fearing their property would be swept away last night. The tide receded to-day, and the sea, under the influence of a northwest wind, was beaten down, but the result, especially in the lower portions of the city, is one of almost complete destruction. The work of the waves was quick and complete, and individual losses are numerous. In Excursion House district the destruction of property is enormous, although unexpected, as a survey shows that for twenty years the beach in that section has changed but little and danger from storms was not anticipated. The beach, to-day, is lined with thousands of residents and visitors, including photographers and artists sketching the ruins. Many sufferers of the storm are people of moderate means, and their losses will be severely felt in the coming winter.

GONE DOWN WITH EIGHTEEN MEN.
COHASSET, Mass., November 27.—It is reported the Philadelphia collier Allen foundered off this port. There seems to be but little doubt but the steamer sunk on some of the ledges directly outside of this port. At 2 p. m., Sunday, a number of people at the village heard the steamer's whistle. Last night an immense amount of wreckage came on shore at Sandy Beach, marks upon which indicated conclusively the wrecked vessel must have been the Allen. The Allen was an iron boat of 1,280 tons burden. She was built and owned in Philadelphia.

THE REPORT CONFIRMED.
All day long wreckage of various descriptions has been coming ashore along the beaches, more particularly at Sandy Cove. Huge timbers, cabin furniture, life preservers, furniture, chairs, life preservers and other articles belonging to a steamer's outfit and many of them stamped "Allen" have been seen in the breakers near shore and found scattered along the water front. This wreckage tells too plainly that the fine iron steamer Allen has been broken up on one of the huge sunken ledges at this port, which have always been a terror to mariners. Captain Nathaniel W. Pratt, one of the Cohasset's oldest seafaring men, and from whom the first intimation of the disaster came, said, in his opinion, the vessel foundered either on the sea ledges or on the Grampians, which are long sunken ledges lying about three miles from the nearest point of the mainland. If such is the case, the vessel must have

GONE DOWN WITH ALL ON BOARD
within a very few minutes after striking. Since the early reports of the supposed catastrophe many villagers have been seen, and they say they distinctly heard the steamer's whistle shortly after noon Sunday, repeated at brief intervals for an hour or more, as if appealing for assistance or a pilot. It was so thick at the time that nothing could be seen at a great distance from shore, and even if any observation could have been made, no boat could have lived in the tempestuous sea then raging.

GONE TO PIECES.
The schooner Lesonoo, before reported as stranded on Pleasant Beach, has gone to pieces. Her deck was lifted clear off the vessel and was piled up in a confused mass on the beach beside the hull of another schooner. Summer cottages and similar structures on the water front are wrecked, and their ruins line the beaches. Many of the beautiful drives to the summer residences are washed away and badly gutted or covered with wreckage.

LANDED PROPERTY DAMAGED.
There was great damage to land property along Crescent Beach, between Green Hill and Gum Rock. Along this stretch is a line of from twenty to thirty small summer cottages, averaging in size from about twenty to thirty feet. There is not a single one of these that does not bear marks of the terrible force of the storm. Some of them were lifted from their foundations and carried back several feet. The total loss to property on the beach will reach many thousands of dollars.

AT THE HOTEL WANTASKET
the covered promenade connecting it with the Rockland cafe was partially destroyed by the wind.

The road bed of the Wantasket Beach branch of the old Colony road was entirely washed out from the Hotel Standish to a point half a mile northwest of the Ocean House.

The wrecked brig Alice is rapidly breaking up and has been stripped of everything portable. SAG HARBOR, L. I., November 27.—Half this village was inundated yesterday. The Nassau House, the principal hotel, has been unable to serve its guests with meals since Sunday, the kitchen being under water. More than half a mile of the Long Island railroad tracks in this village was washed out. For the first time within the memory of inhabitants, the tide water from the Atlantic reached Peconic Bay. The heavy seas and high tides forced a channel through the outer beach to Shinnecock Bay and caused the bay to rise over six feet and the tide to flow through the canal to Peconic Bay.

Vessels Arrived.
NEW YORK, November 27.—The steamers Hana and Hurt, Arizona, Gallia and Wyanoke were the only vessels to reach port to-day. All report having been caught in the storm, but as far as known, the first-named is the only one that sustained any damage, and that is about the decks.

Indiana's Returns.
INDIANAPOLIS, November 27.—The official canvass of the Presidential vote of Indiana was completed to-night. The total vote is 536,949, divided as follows: Republicans, 268,361; Democrats, 261,013; Prohibitionists, 9,881; Labor, 2,694. Republican plurality, 2,348; General Hovey's plurality, 2,200.

A Difference of Opinion.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 27.—The State Board of Censors, to whom all returns are certified, failed to agree upon the contest for the certificate to Congress from the Third District. Governor Taylor endorses the claim of the State of H. C. Evans, Republican. Secretary of State Allison, another member of the board, declares Bates, Democrat, legally elected. Further consideration of the matter has been deferred until next Monday.

The Grand Army's New Commander.
CHICAGO, November 27.—Major Warner, the newly-elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, arrived in Chicago from Kansas City this afternoon. "No, we do not discuss politics in the Grand Army," he said, in answer to a question, "and if anyone says so, and is dissatisfied with the order, he may withdraw." Regarding the intentions of General Palmer and other prominent Democratic members, who have decided the order is changing to a political organization, the commander had nothing to say. "Grand Army men have decided to drop the whole matter," he said.

A Second Rescript.
DUBLIN, November 27.—The report that a second Papal rescript had been sent to Irish bishops a fortnight ago is now confirmed. It was intended that the receipt of the document should not be known, but that bishops should proceed to enforce the commands of the first rescript without alluding to the existence of a second one. But this plan was spoiled through the indiscretion of a servant of the Bishop of Limerick, who divulged part of the contents of the rescript. It is probably the publication of part of the document will force the Pope to reaffirm publicly his wishes regarding Ireland.

A Church Burned.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., November 27.—The beautiful brown stone church of the First Congregational Society at Northampton, was ruined by fire this afternoon. The building was new and cost $65,000; insurance, $50,000. George W. Cable, novelist, joined the firemen in their work, and was one of the most active and efficient men on the scene.

The Rabbi Says It's a Lie.
CHICAGO, November 27.—Rabbi Messing, of San Francisco, who has been visiting here four days, was called on by the Daily News reporter and shown a special dispatch from San Francisco saying his reader in the synagogue had been removed for talking disrespectfully of his superior office and would hold Messing responsible for $1,100 damages for causing his dismissal. It would up with a revival of the story, said to have been circulated some time ago, alleging that the rabbi had been induced by "Big Bertha," a well-known confidence woman, to secure her entrance into Jewish society in San Francisco, that she might ply her calling, and said it was indelible the rabbi had come east in order to avoid testifying at her trial. "It's an infamous lie," said Messing, not only. "Big Bertha" did come to me, it is true, with letters of introduction, but I made her acquainted with no one, and that is the extent of my connection with the affair. I did not run away from San Francisco to avoid testifying at her trial, either. I am here to visit my old friends, and after my trip I will go back to San Francisco."

Honoring a Minister.
BRUSSELS, November 27.—The King and Queen gave a farewell dinner to-day, in honor of Judge Lambert, the American minister and his wife, prior to their departure for St. Petersburg.

Frightened Anarchists.
CHICAGO, November 27.—The Anarchists who took part in the Sunday night, tableaux demonstration were busy to-day denying that the American flag was trampled on. Their back-down is said to be due to the report that the arrest of those guilty was contemplated by the police.

THE NEW LABOR ORDER.
Thomas Barry Preparing for the Coming Meeting.

CHICAGO, November 27.—Thomas Barry, the noted ex-Knight of Labor, remained in Chicago until to-night to prepare the ground for the coming meeting of twenty-five to thirty delegates to the Knights of Labor general convention, whom he expects to assemble here and start the proposed new organization. The meeting, it is understood, will issue a declaration of principles. This declaration, as far as at present involved, is to repeat all the charges so frequently made against the Powderly administration and will specifically demand the eight-hour day law, the abolition of child labor, the regulation of female labor, the manual training of children, and the factory and store inspection.

IT WILL DENOUNCE
the alleged antagonism of the Knights of Labor to trades unions, and particularly the intolerance of the Knights to members of the federation of labor. Unlike the Knights, the new organization will not debar from membership the federalists. The declaration will charge that the Knights are largely composed of Irish and Americans. The new organization will aim to be cosmopolitan. Individual local assemblies will be independent and will acknowledge no general executive board and will pay no tribute for general officers, but will keep the money at home to struggle for the 8-hour-a-day law; that there shall be open meetings for the purpose of discussing political questions. Indeed, the chief features of the new organization is to be the active interest it will take in politics and for this purpose the order will use either Democratic or Republican as a locality or other circumstances may demand.

The Erie's Annual Report.
NEW YORK, November 27.—The annual report of the Erie road for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1888, shows a surplus over all the charges, except interest on the bonds of $738,852, against $901,799 last year. The annual meeting was held to-day. There was no opposition to the regular ticket.

Ridiculing the Deputies.
PARIS, November 27.—The Journal des Debats and other Parisian journals ridicule the action of the majority of the Chamber of Deputies in adopting the motion of Messure yesterday. Wilson, in an interview, said the incident would not have the effect of keeping him from the Chamber.

OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

U. S. Officials and an Attorney Implicated.

MARYLAND OYSTER REBELLION

Governor Jackson is Going to Enforce the Law—"Spillbinders"—Chief Arthur—The Pedestrians.

The Opium Smugglers.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 27.—The first of the famous opium smuggling cases was moved at the opening of the United States court this morning. The defendant is Edwin Gardner, who had been indicted for smuggling an aggregate of 3,500 pounds of opium. Gardner was once a special agent of the government, when he acquired a full knowledge of the methods of the customs collectors. One of the branches of the case is his trial for conspiracy, for an alleged combination to steal captured opium packages from the Ogdensburg custom house, and substituting blocks of wood, for the double purpose of getting opium and destroying evidence.

A REVENUE COLLECTOR IMPLICATED.
Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Lytle, whose office is next to the room in which the opium was stored, Lawyer Stone and Janitor Comiskey were arrested on a charge of conspiracy and theft. Gardner, who had given bail, was subsequently again arrested at Chicago, while trying to sell opium.

John C. Haines, a prominent lawyer of Seattle, W. T., is also one of the defendants in this part of the case. Gardner was brought into court at 10 this morning. His eyes are weak, and he wore a bandage over them. Ex-Congressman Richard Crowley, of Lockport, appeared as his counsel. United States District Attorney Lockwood and Assistant Hoyt, represented government. A jury was obtained in an hour and Assistant Hoyt opened the case by relating the story of the smuggling operations.

THE FIRST WITNESS
called for the government was J. Chandler Houghton, special agent of the Treasury Department. He testified to arresting Gardner and his cousin, Ephraim Redwood, and confiscating their trunks. He searched Ephraim's barn and found 780 pounds of opium concealed amongst the baled hay. Four trunks of opium were brought into court and identified as the confiscated goods.

Albert Rowland, deputy collector at Morristown, who was with Houghton when he made the arrest, corroborated his testimony.

After recess many witnesses for government were examined. William H. Daniels, ex-collector of Port Ogdensburg, testified that Gardner had told him about a lot of opium being shipped to San Francisco and if that the matter of his arrest could be kept quiet, he would tell at the proper time who shipped it.

Governor closed its case this evening, and ex-Congressman Richard Crowley, of Liverpool, counsel for Gardner, asked the court to direct a verdict of "not guilty." On the ground that the indictment did not follow the language of the States and did not charge defendant with bringing the article into the United States, upon which was a duty levied. The indictment described smuggled opium as smoking opium. In the revised statutes it was described as opium for smoking. The court denied the motion and an adjournment was taken until to-morrow morning.

The Oyster Rebellion.
BALTIMORE, November 27.—Governor Jackson, in an interview to-day, said the situation of the oyster rebellion, which confronts the State authorities, is this: There are 800 oyster vessels, whose crews, aggregating about 5,000 armed men, are banded together to dredge on certain grounds and drive off any State force sent to arrest them. To oppose them the State has fourteen vessels, mostly small sloops, manned by about 100 men. We have reached a stage where this force cannot cope with the marauders, and I shall adopt heavier measures for the enforcement of the law. I have reason to believe the Secretary of War at Washington will grant us the use of six or eight pound cannons, which will be placed on State steamers and on spots on shore to be selected hereafter.

The "Spillbinders."
NEW YORK, November 27.—The Republican "Spillbinders" met in the Fifth Avenue Hotel this afternoon and completed the organization of the Republican orators in the late campaign. It was determined to call the organization the "Republican Spillbinders Association." Hon. Chauncey M. Depew was chosen president, and the vice-presidents elected were Colonel Elliot Sheppard, Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, Charles Foster, Hon. W. McKinley, of Ohio, and Governor William P. Dillingham. Among the members of the executive committee are General Anson G. McCook and H. K. Thurber.

Chief Arthur's Views.
NEW YORK, November 27.—Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Engineers, arrived here from Indianapolis this afternoon. It was rumored he had come here to hold a conference with Grand Master Sargent, of the Firemen's Brotherhood, to decide whether or not to call out all of the men employed on the western roads with which the order now has differences, and cause a general strike. But Mr. Arthur said: "I am not here for any such purpose, and have not seen Mr. Sargent. I cannot say at present what the outcome of the trouble will be, but I am of the opinion that a general strike will not occur."
